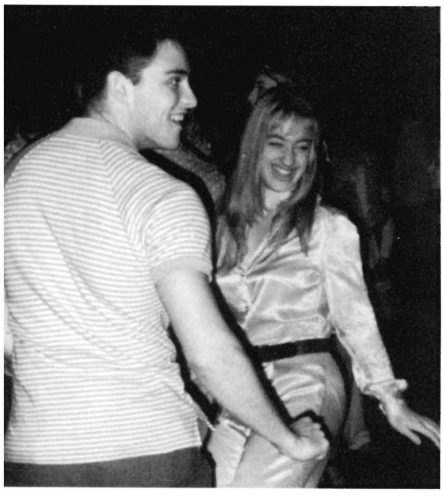
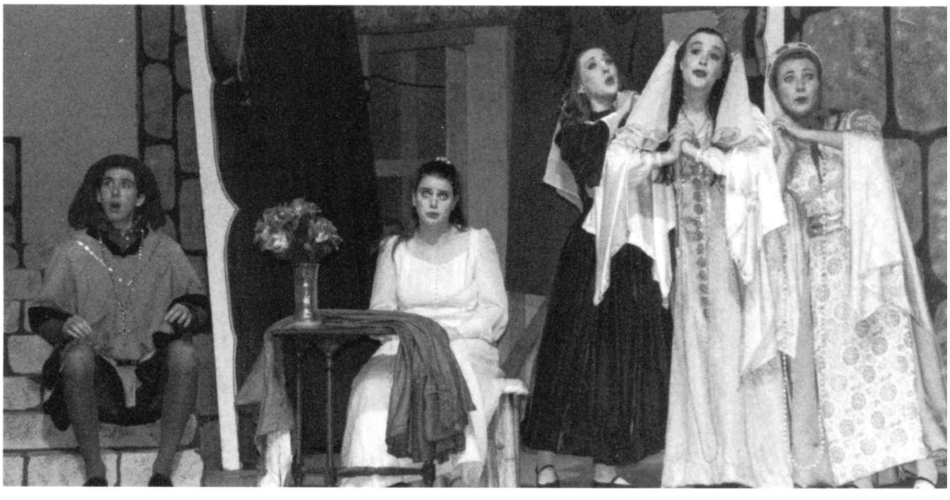
MAINTAINING IDENTITY IN THE MIDST OF CHANGE





Who are You? What are you talking about? Who are YOU? Do you have some sort of identity problem? Who comes up with these themes anyway?

Maybe it's a serious inquiry with several different aspects, angles and possible answers.

Maybe it's just senseless yearbook babble. A cute theme.

Maybe it's a question we all ask ourselves at some point.

Regardless, it is a question that George Fox University asked itself throughout the 1996-97 school year. In its first year as a University, George Fox merged with Western Evangelical Seminary, expanded onto Portland and Boise campuses, constructed a new residence dormitory, University Hall, and increased enrollment to over 2200, while attempting to remain the same Christian community based institution which has been so appealing to students for over 100 years.

How do you build an identity? How do you maintain your identity in the midst of change? How do you maintain integrity over image?

Maybe only time and experience show the true answers to these questions.

Maybe when you pick up this book many years down the road, you'll have discovered more about the answers, more (or all) about your identity, more about maintenance.

And hopefully, George Fox University and the people you meet here will have been instrumental in answering your own questions.

L'Ami is a journal, a record in picture and the written word, about one school year. About one year in the life of George Fox University and YOU: building, expanding, maintaining and developing together.

New roommates, hall mates and casual acquaintances led to hopeful friendships and personality analysis.

"One could tell everyone was putting up their best front and you wondered if those cool people across the hall, with the swell plastic name tags, would turn out to be wonderful friends or schizo-chia pet growers," said Arika Finlay.

EMBARKING ON THE UNCHARTED NEW EXPERIENCES

Schedules were packed with a myriad of opportunities to get to know people and the campus. O-session gave everyone a core group of people to talk and play games with as well as an opportunity to go on tours and participate in service projects. Choir auditions and Open House on the Centennial Tower lawn gave an opportunity for people to get involved. The weekend ended with a semiformal banquet including dinner and a stand-up comedian. The weekend launched everyone off successfully to meet their new horizon with a opportunistic plethora of excitement!

Ava Pinkerton said, "I really enjoyed the whole experience of being an RA. One thing that I didn't expect was that I would appreciate the staff so much. They have encouraged and supported me."

During the year, RAs meet weekly with their living area staff and RD. They put in hours of hard work and commitment to better the lives of the students they serve. Their teamwork as an RA staff helps to support and inspire the community of George Fox University.

With George Fox's change from a college to a university, the ASC was challenged to make this year remembered and set a tradition of excellence for the years to come. The Central Committee this year consisted of President Scott Wade, Vice President Kelly Scrutton, Secretary Cary Wadlow, Treasurer Monte Wilbur, Student Chaplain Jeff Simons, Activities Director Kyle Chowning, Christian Services Director Tim Goodfellow, Director of Communications Michael Slivkoff and Supreme Court Justice Rebecca Malmfeldt. Communication greatly increased this year with the student community as the leadership staff designed a periodic newsletter. Town Hall meetings addressed several important issues to students such as the parking policy and tuition increases. According to Laurie Robeson she thought that, "the ASC has more activities for the students this year than in previous years." The Beach Bash on the bell tower lawn started off the year well with record attendance. Movie Nights with "Twister," "Phenomenon," and "That Thing You Do" were also popular with the students. The ASC also sponsored several successful dances this year. The Disco Dance was in November, Holiday Hoedown in December, Sock Hop in January and Spring Formal in April. Two all campus retreats were held as well, one at Camp Bradley and the other at Camp Arrah Wannah. At the beginning of April, ASC sponsored its first national Leadership Conference, featuring new GFU faculty member Sen. Mark Hatfield as the keynote speaker.

Keeping the student body informed and entertained while providing useful hands-on experience for the staffs was the purpose of the various branches of the ASC Communications Department.

Persisting through a mid-year change in the editorial staff, The Crescent newspaper provided weekly to bi-monthly coverage of on-campus news and features. Andrew Miller served as Editor-in-Chief during first semester and Kelly Irish filled those duties second semester.

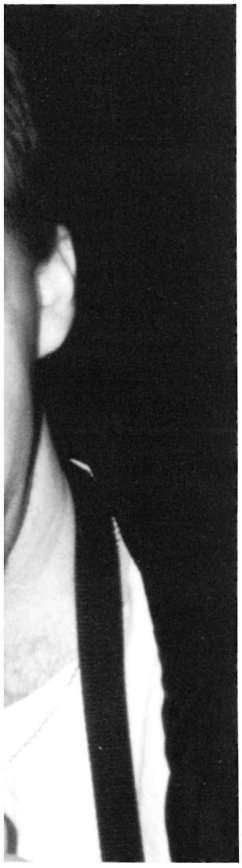
Time is a precious commodity to any student. Sacrificing one's relaxation, vacation, or sleeping time is a very difficult act to accomplish. Student's with large hearts and giving attitudes did, however, find that the sacrifice of their time for the service of others was well worth it.

Students traveled all over the West coast during the Winter and Spring Serve trips. Whether giving out blankets on the streets of San Francisco or building a home for a family in Tijuana, students were rewarded and thankful that they gave their time.

"These trips will change your life socially, spiritually and mentally," commented Angela Box.

A large group of students traveled to Urbana in Chicago, Illinois, a convention for students all over the United States who had an interest in missionary work. The group listened to various speakers, made new friends doing small group discussions, and toured Chicago.

SERVE A GREATER REWARD TRIPS



Students took time out for fun, however. Students who ministered in Pasadena spent an exciting day at Disneyland, a refreshing change from the heavy work load they took upon themselves at the missions.

Students traveled to Arizona, Mexico, Idaho, Colorado, and Washington. Ten students went to Arizona where they ministered to the inner-city homeless and worked in soup kitchens. The twenty-eight who ventured to Mexico helped build a house for a needy family. In Idaho, the fourteen students worked with disadvantaged kids at the Christian Children's Ranch. The Colorado serve trip worked with Habitat for Humanity by helping finish building a home. Nine students stayed closer to home and traveled to Toppenish, Washington where they held vacation Bible school and learned about the Native American culture.

"Go out today and preach the gospel, and if you must, use words." These words of St. Francis of Assisi have been exemplified through the work of the campus Christian Ministries 1996-97. The message was demonstrated through local outreaches that students participated in. The outreaches included: The Little Bruin ministry - a big brother & big sister program, Hispanic ministries - La Casa Cafe, Senior ministry at the Friendsview Manor, and Portland urban ministeries - working in shelters and soup kitchens downtown. Other important campus activities were: the 24-hour Famine in February, All-Night Prayer in March, or Over the Edge-a Sunday night time of praise and worship. Jane Braun, serve trip coordinator, stated that the purpose of all these activities was, "to expose students to a wide range of opportunities so they can find their place in ministry." It was obvious after this busy year that the campus Christian Ministries of 1996-97 did a great job of carrying the Gospel to many different people at different stages in their lives.

FALL ACTIVITIES

GET DOWN TONIGHT

"The fall activities this year went way beyond our expectations," said Activity Director, Kyle Chowning.

This year, George Fox University kicked fall activities off with a blazin' beach bash! Other activities that soon followed were a groovin' 70's dance, on campus movie madness nights feauturing "Twister" and "Phenomenon," spirited theatre games and jammin' coffee houses. It was obvious to students on campus that University status could only make the activities more entertaining.

For many students, the activities sparked an interest to stay on campus during the weekend instead of retreating home. Cary Wadlow commented that students stayed around, "Cause activities involve lots of people and it's way more fun than going home to nobody."

Andy Miller stated, "The reason I stay on campus during the weekends is to work on my on going project to reanimate dead tissue. In my secret laboratory (located in WoodMars's attic), I will strive to create a clone of myself and then I will conquer the world!!! I also stay at Fox so I can do homework."

Regardless of the exact reasoning for students staying on campus they have all found George Fox an active and fun place to be even on the weekends.

The longstanding tradition of Homecoming continued as the first in the history of George Fox University during the week of February 10-15. Featuring the theme "Essence of the Eras," the ASC and Alumni Association planned a week of activities for current and previous students.

Beginning Monday, each day of the week featured a theme-dress up day, varying from '50's to '80's to pajamas. Activities of the week included a mocktail party, a pizza feed, and the annual Homecoming chapel held in Miller Gymnasium.

During the chapel, a group of four "cheerleaders," Rachel Dressler, Tenille Camarillo, Wade Neiwert and Jeff Bailey entertained and the class reps set up a blind licorice "chew-off," featuring unwitting members of the same sex. The men's and women's basketball teams were introduced, and coaches and captains thanked the student body for their support throughout the season.

Friday night both teams defeated Willamette University, and the victory was celebrated at Ed's Diner, a production of ASC featuring the vocal harmonies of Ed Stevens' the Uncalled Four and the student group Rescue. Dean of Students Shaun McNay sang "Mack the Knife," and after hours performed the Bill Murray routine "Star Wars," as well as an impersonation of Yoda.

After a day of alumni activities on Saturday, the basketball teams hosted county rival Linfield in the Homecoming games. The women won, but the men dropped a close game.

At halftime, the 1997 Homecoming court was announced to the crowd, and King Mike Smolko and Queen Casey Waits took their place presiding over the game.

Following the game, due to an ownership change and scheduling mix-up, the annual student broom hockey games at Clackamas Town Center were cancelled.

Thanks to the hard work of the ASC class reps and many volunteers, the 1997 Homecoming week is one that will be remembered for many years by those who chose to participate.

While the cold, harsh weather may have kept students indoors, it certainly did not deter them from having a good time and making memories. With the activities committee working at full force to keep the winter dullness from driving students off campus, the George Fox community enjoyed dances, karaoke nights and the Christmas Celebration to its fullness.

"The sock hop reminds me of good times if you know what I mean," commented Dan Pitchford.

The Christmas Celebration was an extravaganza of people and activities meant to provide a break in the heavy load that accompanies the end of the semester.

WINTER WONDERLAND ACTIVITIES

Groups such as Dayspring, Crosslight, the Players, and the Handbell choir entertained crowds of students and faculty with the sights and sounds of Christmas. Of course, many showed up for the traditional Christmas goodies that were provided.

Hidden talents were revealed at the karaoke coffee house held in Marriott. Students tried their hand at serenading while sipping hot mochas and lattes provided by the Coffee Cottage.

SPRING ACTIVITIES

SPRING FEVER HIGH

Spring conjures up pictures of budding flowers, fluttering butterflies, and new love. For the George Fox community, it also brings up campus retreats, lip syncs, all night prayer, movie nights and midnight breakfasts.

The Activities committee did a fine job providing quality entertainment for a campus inflicted with Spring fever. Though the weather was not always pleasant outside, the atmosphere inside our own campus was enjoyable.

Jeff Simons lead a large group of students to Camp Arawana where they spent a fantastic March weekend playing, singing and eating with one another.

Any student looks forward to a movie break. An hour and a half dedicated to escaping the monotony of homework. "That Thing You Do" was shown by the activities committee during the spring months.

All-night Prayer was put on by the chaplain's committee. Students had the opportunity to pray, sing and praise the Lord for an entire night. The activities allowed students to fellowship with one another and learn from the Lord.

The lip sync, a favorite among students, was cancelled due to a lack of participants. There were not enough acts to justify using the money and energy to set it up, although some felt that more acts would have emerged if better notification had been made.

LEADERS OF INTEGRITY

"Empowering leaders of integrity through experience" was the theme of the first annual leadership conference at George Fox. Sponsored by ASC student government, Elite '97 attracted students from Oregon, Washington, and as far away as Indiana.

ASC vice-president Kelly Scrutton said, "Our goal was to provide oppourtunities for college leaders to see leaders who are honorable, and to have experiences they could learn from and take new ideas back to their campuses." Those activities included a day on the challenge course at Tilikum, roundtable discussions, and interactive workshops with business leaders.

But there was more than just teaching. "What started as a leadership training opportunity turned into a real ministry opportunity for us," said Scrutton. "It was exciting for outside students to see quality Christian leaders, and to fellowship with each other."

Highlights for many included Senator Mark Hatfield's keynote address, the bonfire and worship at the beach, and the Kry and Jennifer Knapp concerts.

"The organizing committee did a phenomenal job, I think maybe we learned more than the participants did," said Scrutton.

MR. BRUIN SHOW YOUR STUFF PAGEANT

Inaugurating a new event into the GFU schedule, ASC Freshman Representatives intriduced the Mr. Bruin pageant during the week before finals. The pageant featured representatives from each class who volunteered their time to compete in the event, with the purpose of raising funds for Doernbecher Children's Hospital at OHSU.

The eleven male competitors rehearsed for weeks with the assistance of a group of freshman volunteer coordinators. In the weeks before the pageant, the contestants carried large jars around with them for donations to the hospital.

During the pageant, with the theme of "Top Gun," the contestants were judged in: a group dance routine; a hero/talent section; a casual attire showcase in which the contestants were accompanied by young children; a formal wear showcase in which the contestants escorted female friends in formal dresses; and a question and answer section with the contestants mothers.

In the first annual Mr. Bruin pageant, junior Jory Smith walked away with the title "Mr. Bruin," following a saxophone "duet" with Alex Walker and a visit from his "mother," Travis Johnson. But, most importantly, over $4,000 was raised for Doernbecher by the GFU community.

The formal was held at the Portland Art Museum Ballroom and carried the theme, "An Affair to Remember." Students enjoyed learning different ballroom dances including the box step, rumba, and fox trot.

"The Spring Formal was a fun and new experience for me. Everyone looked great in their formals," stated Kristy Burns.

Prior to Christmas Break, a dance entitled "The Holiday Hoedown" was held at Tilikum. Students dressed in their cowboy duds and spent an exciting evening learning square and line dances. The atmosphere was more relaxed but the entertainment and excitement were not.

"It was a good time. I laughed a lot. It was a good way to get away from school for a while," reflected Rose Stoltenberg.

With the installment of the dance policy, students have enjoyed learning, laughing and sharing in the activity. Students have been able to prove that they can handle the questionable act in a mature manner.

The 414 graduates were given a reality check as they listened to commencement speaker, Donald North, a consultant to non-profit agencies and the recent chairman of the board of trustees at Western Evangelical Seminary. North reminded students that although a degree is important in society it is not a guarantee of financial success or happiness. God is the one true dispenser of both.

This year's graduating class was the largest graduating class ever for George Fox. This was partially due to the combining of the University's commencement activities with that of the Seminary's. Although this combination was frowned upon by some graduates due to the lack of seating for family members, the commencement was received well.

Graduation serves as a final meeting with colleagues and friends and a spring board for future endeavors.

A Baccalaureate service was held prior to commencement in Bauman Auditorium with Reverend James Martin, Pastor of Mt. Olivet Baptist Church, as the featured speaker. Rev. Martin stated in his address to students, "Don't let God just be a Sunday morning thing, keep Him at the center of your life."

Playing through the Pain

YOUNG WOMEN'S SOCCER TEAM FINISHES STRONG

Hopes were high for the George Fox women's soccer team in the beginning of the 1996 season. Headed by lone senior Lisel Goertzen (NSCAA All-Far West Region Second Team 1995) and eleven returning players, with a total of five upperclassmen, the Lady Bruins started off strong. They exploded to a 3-0 record in their first conference matches. As the season wore on, however, the team was plagued with injuries for the rest of the season. The girls hung tough and most played through their injuries. However, by the end of the season, the bench only supported one healthy substitute who was able to play. Their never-die-spirit didn't leave them. In the final game against Linfield, they left their mark, ending the season with a 5-1 win. The Bruins fared well overall, finishing with an 8-12 record, of which four losses were lost by one goal, and two in overtime. Sophomore forward Katrina Crabb had an outstanding season, scoring 11 goals-one away from the school record, and Lisel Goertzen was elected to the Northwest Conference first-team. Beth Ehli, Junior midfielder, commented, "Our challenge with injuries leaves us room for improvement next year. We're a young team, and we'll come back next year stronger than ever."

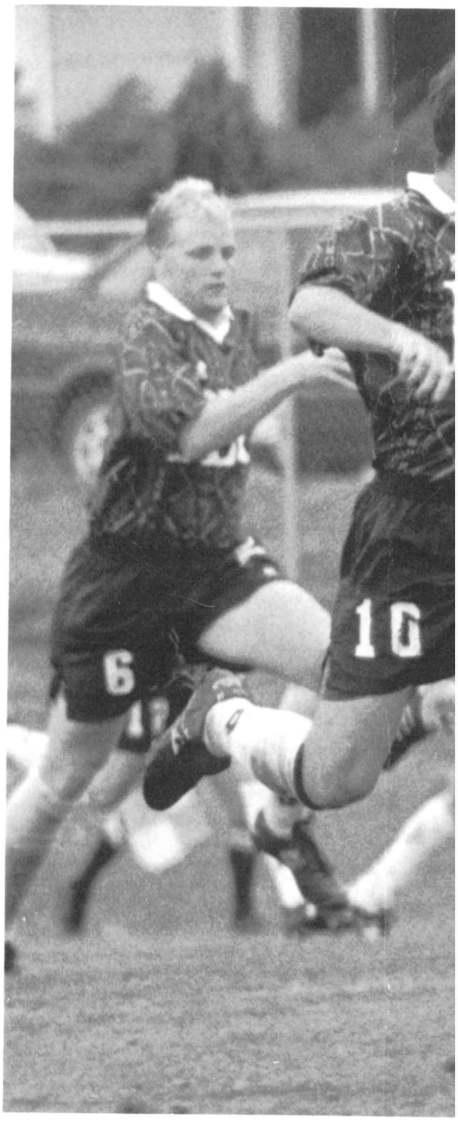
MEN'S SOCCER GAINS HOPE, PLAYS TOGETHER



George Fox's men's soccer team ended the season with a 11-10-1 record, while being the runners-up in the Northwest Conference. This was the Bruin's tenth consecutive winning season and trip to the Northwest Regional Tournament.

According to senior Justin Rivard, "The highlight of the season had to have been the last game, which was the culmination of a long season with good and bad times. We started off without hope and then started playing together in the end and took the team ranked fifth in the nation to double overtime."

> "It's been a great four years playing soccer for Fox, I wouldn't have traded them for any other school in the world."
> -- Justin Rivard

Leading this year's team was Wade Fleming who was named player of the year by his teammates and also an NAIA honorable mention All-American. He led the Bruins in scoring with 13 goals and six assists. Also honored on the All-Pacific Region second team was goalkeeper Curtis Selby, who had eight shutouts and allowed just 1.3 goals per game.

All region honorable mention went to midfielder Josh Turpen and defender Tommy Kolodge. Travis Johnson was named a NAIA All-American Scholar-Athlete as well. The team also voted Jonathan Williams as the most improved player and John Suehisa as the most valuable rookie player.

Desire and intensity

VOLLEYBALL TEAM SHOWS HEART AND EXCITEMENT

A young squad full of determination, the Volleyball team suprise the George Fox student body with their qualification into the Northwest Conference playoffs. The team, comprised of only two returning starters, and without any seniors, finished third in the Northwest Conference.

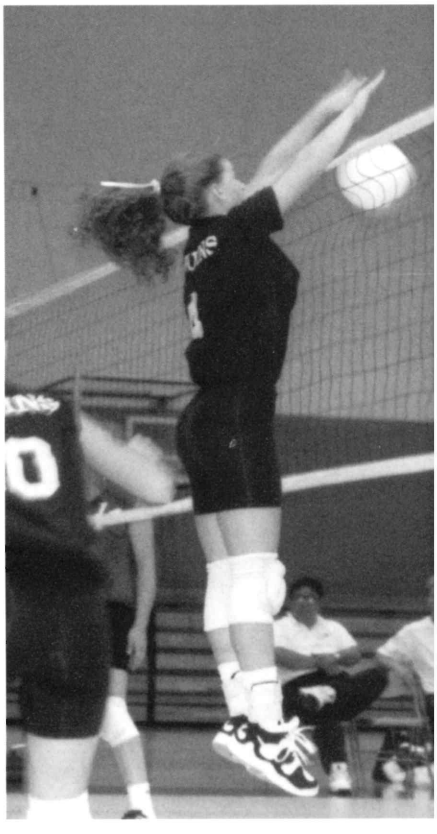
"It was actually good that there wasn't just one leader on our team, it meant that everyone had to step up their game. We had four or five leaders," said co-captain Janette Monckton.

Halfway through the season the Lady Bruins were struggling with finishing out wins and building consistency. But the second half saw the team combine their intensity and their potential to build a solid winning streak.

"This team always had heart. That's what's so exciting about playing with a young team. People always complimented our desire and our intensity," said Monckton.

> "This team always had heart. That's what's so exciting about playing with a young team ... everyone had to step it up."
> --Janette Monckton

The women lost in the semi-finals just shy of returning for a championship game. Setter Kari Guyer was named to the GTE Academic All-District VIII team and freshman outside hitter Sharon Barnett made the NW Conference first team. Guyer and outside hitter Michelle Harper were awarded honorable mention All-District.



DENIED

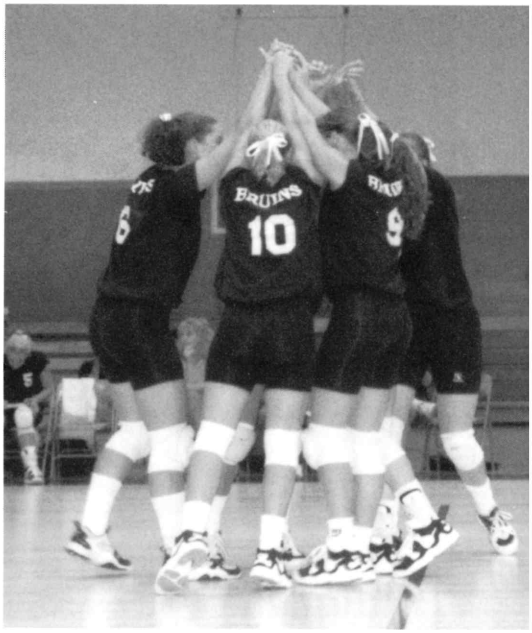
Sophomore Amy Redenius creates a wall and stuffs a opponent. "Amy has great springs, she gets up for th block really quickly," said Monckton.

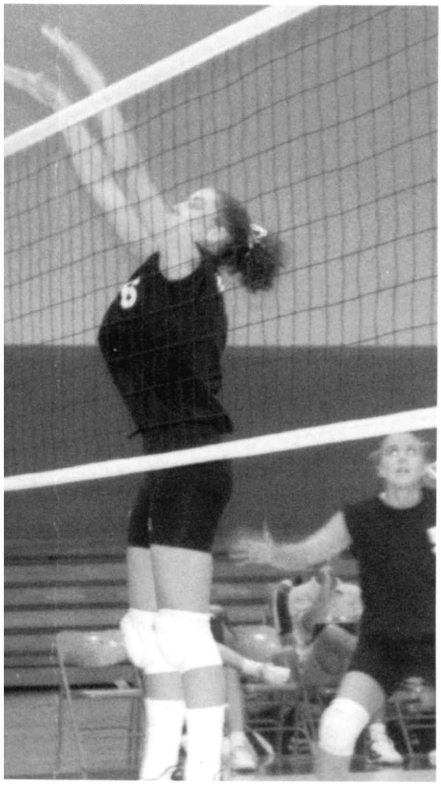
STRONG WORK

Freshman sensation Sharon Barnett starts the play with a perfect pass. Barnett was named to the NCIC first team all-conference.

A RUSH OF EMOTION

Celebrating a point, the Lady Bruins come together to encourage each other. "Regardless of the outcome of the point, our team always came together to build up for the next play," said setter Kari Guyer.





DOOMSDAY DEFENSE

Extending over the net, freshman Beth Davis intimidates an opponent while Jennie Rennie gives coverage. Davis provided a presence in the middle that disrupted Bruin opponents.

DIGGIN' IN

Receiving a serve, Janette Monckton gets low to make a pass while Rachel Evans covers. The Lady Bruins success began with their defense, led by specialists Monckton, Evans and Cobi Van der Meer.

Uphold a reputation

Women's Cross Country looks ahead

The Lady Bruins fought hard to keep their reputation as one of the top national NAIA cross-country teams. However, tough competition in the Northwest kept them from their national meet eligibility.

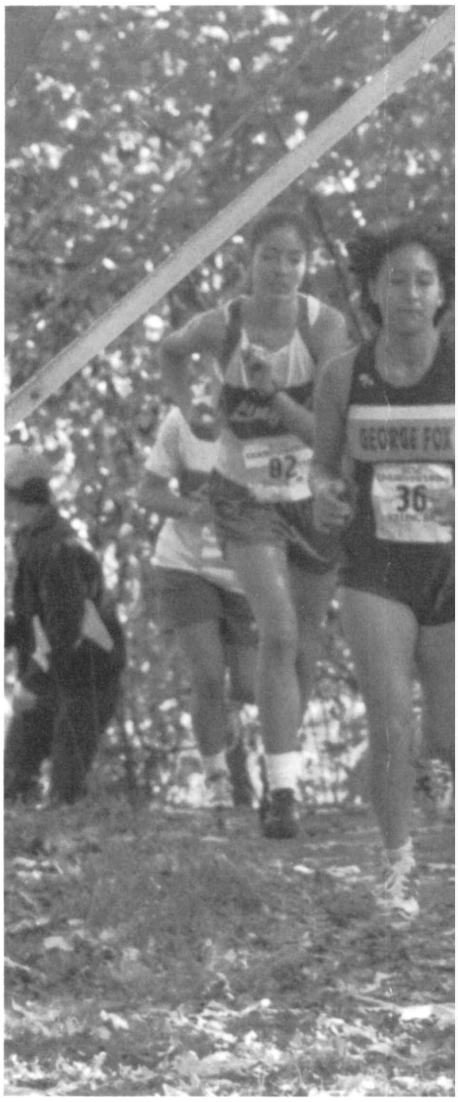
"This was the first year in eight years that we didn't make it to nationals but it was a building year and I'm looking forward to some of us stepping up and taking a leadership position next season,"said Bekah Ulmer.

Brooke Barton was the universities only representative at the women's meet. Barton achieved a 34th place ranking with a run of 18:40, four places behind her previous rank in 1993.

"My goal was to get All-American which is placing in the top 30 which I did my freshman year. Placing 34th this year was disappointing. I ran a real tough race and I gave my all throughout so I didn't have much at the end. I was pleased over all, though," remarked Barton.

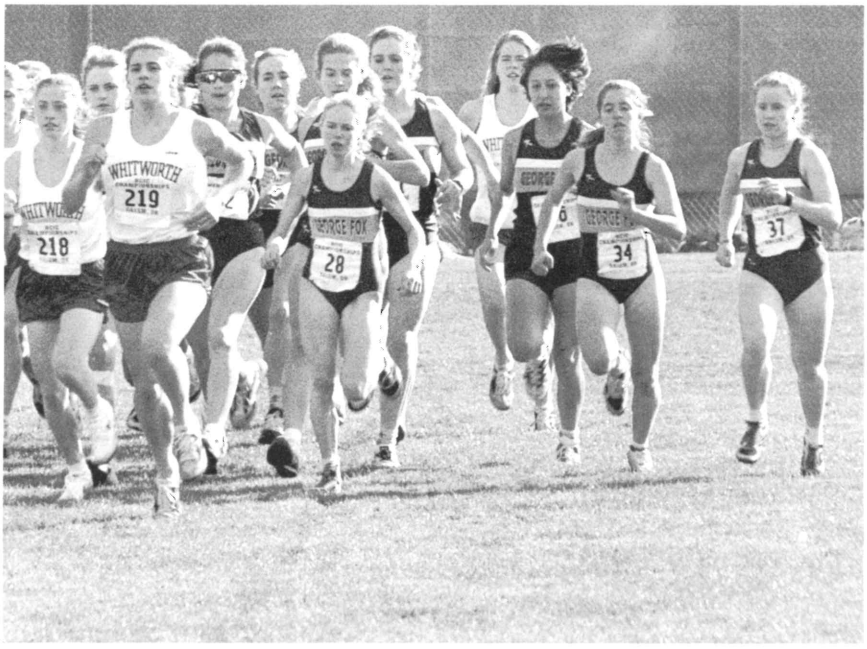
> "The Pasco meet was my favorite competition. They have music and dancing. Everyone got out and did the macarena."
> --Bekah Ulmer

Seniors Jarae Kauffman, Angela Linder and Barton and junior Juli Morse were all recipients of the NAIA All-American Scholar-Athlete honors. The award was given to athletes with a junior standing, who had finished a race under a certain stated time during the season and had a GPA of 3.5 or higher. Athletes counted it as an honor to receive it.



THE FUN BEGINS

Starting out the NCIC Championship race in Salem as a team, the women's team remains focused and up to the challenge of a competitive run.



CHAMPIONSHIP BOUND

Determined to do their best, Heidi Haley leads Leanna Evans and Lauren Turner during the early minutes of the NCIC Championship race.

ROUGH TERRAIN

Fatigued but determined, Alisha Mulkey continues to keep pace with a Whitman competitor during the NCIC championships in Salem.

POURING IT ON

Rounding the final turn, Angela Linder gives every last ounce of effort down the home stretch. Linder, a senior, was a solid contributor throughout her four season career.

Climb stopped short

MEN'S X- COUNTRY PLACES FOURTH

The Men's Cross-Country team had an impressive run toward a spectacular finish. However, their climb was stopped just short of an NAIA national meet invitiation. Needing a third place finish at the Northwest Conference to qualify for the nationals, the team finished a disappointing fourth.

"It was little bit of a disappointment but I guess it wasn't what God had for us that day. We were content with that," reflected seniorCurt Rosen. Rosen was looked up to by his teammates and proved himself to be a great team leader as well as a gifted athlete.

> "Winning three big meets like Pasco, Bear Feet, and Mills College was pretty exciting."
> --Curt Rosen

Junior Matt Schrock stated, "It was disappointing because we really believed we could place. Overall, however, it was a successful year."

Sean Beebe was the lone qualifier for the national meet. Beebe finished with a time of 26:23, ranking him 88th overall.

The team was comprised of men of character, strength, and intelligence. Along with Beebe, Jon Ulmer and Dave Dixon, all seniors, were awarded the NAIA All-American Scholar-Athlete Award.

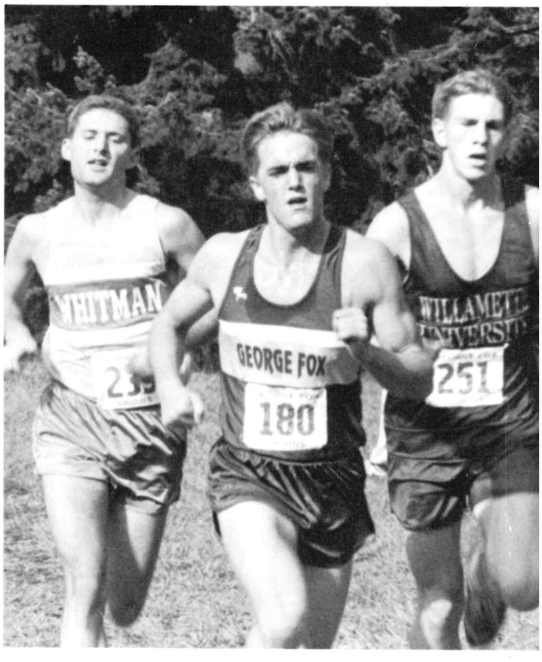
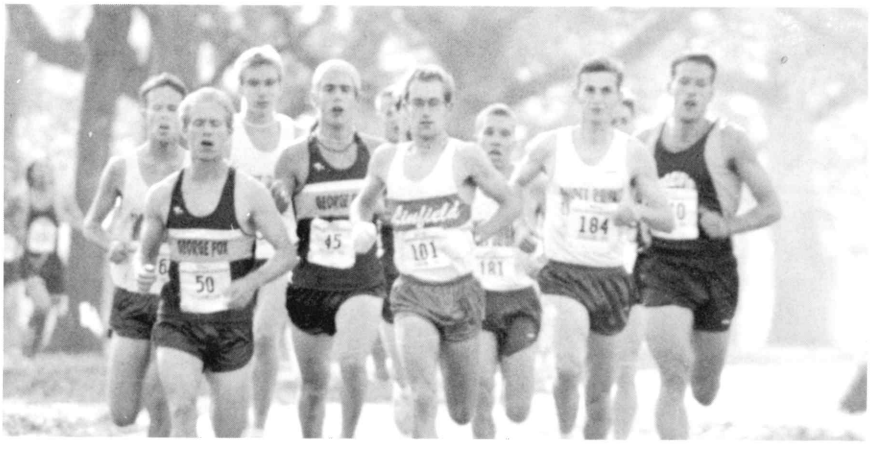
ALL OR NOTHING

Sean Beebe and Eli Lane push themselves toward outstanding times at the NCIC Championship. The meet is the qualifying race for the nationals. Beebe was the only athlete to qualify.

SWEAT AND TEARS

Enduring the challenge of a warm day, Chris MacLeod, a senior athlete spends his energy trying to stay ahead of his Whitman and Willamette competitors.





WORTHWHILE EXHAUSTION

Beginning to feel the pain of distance running, Matt Schrock pushes himself toward a distant finish line. "It was my best race of the year. I was surprised because it was one of the hardest courses to run. I was happy to run in the time I did," reflects Schrock.

TOUGH COMPETITION

Staying close and keeping pace, Jon Ulmer and Eli Lane compete with a large mass of determined athletes all vying for a first place finish.

Strive for excellence

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL TEAM REMAINS CONSISTANT

Consistency is the name of the game and if any team had shown continuous determination and hardwork year after year it would have to be the women's basketball team. The women finished the season with a 15-10 record, the same record as the previous year. With four returning starters the team continued to strive for a chance at the finals. The team achieved a playoff position but lost on the road during a semi-final game.

Lead by Head Coach Scott Rueck who was bestowed with the position after spending two years as an assistant, the women's team again ended the season with a third-place league finish.

"He is a very knowledgable coach. Rueck is someone I can respect as a coach, as a Christian and as a leader."
--Rachel Powell

"I learned a lot this season that can only be experienced when you're a head coach," commented Rueck.

Angela Pettit proved to be a great asset to the team, leading the Lady Bruins with an average of 16.4 points a game. She also shocked the coaching staff and her fellow teammates when she shot for 35-points against Lewis & Clark, the second highest in George Fox history.

The Lady Bruins were not without public praise and recognition. Pettit and teammate Becci Harper earned first-team honors in the Northwest Conference and wing Nancy Rissmiller received honorable mention for her contribution.

Building a foundation

MEN'S BASKETBALL SHOWS PROMISE FOR FUTURE

The 1996-97 George Fox men's basketball team was the youngest of head coach Mark Vernon's tenure. Starters included freshman Ben Kroon and sophomores Kyle Valentine, Aaron Newkirk, Tony Dohren, Mike Faber and Luke Ankeny. The Bruin's overall record was 8 wins, 16 losses, with a league record of 5 and 11. Mike Faber led the team in points and rebounds, averaging 16 and 7 per game, and was rewarded with an all-league team selection. Kyle Valentine led the team in assists, averaging 6 per game and was voted Most Valuable by his teammates.

> "...in the next couple of years we should be a team to contend with..."
> -- Coach Mark Vernon

Redshirt Jared Gallop said that this year's team, "played above themselves and were forced to improve." He also felt, "we have the potential to be one of the top teams in the league next year." Kroon commented, " This season was a lot of fun and I really appreciated the support of the fans." And finally, Coach Vernon reflected upon the season by stating, "It was a great year. We built a strong foundation, playing with primarily freshman and sophomores, and in the next couple of years we should be a team to contend with."

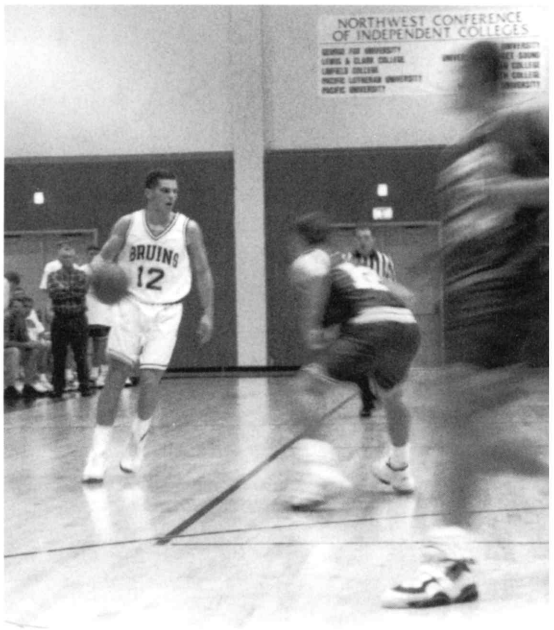
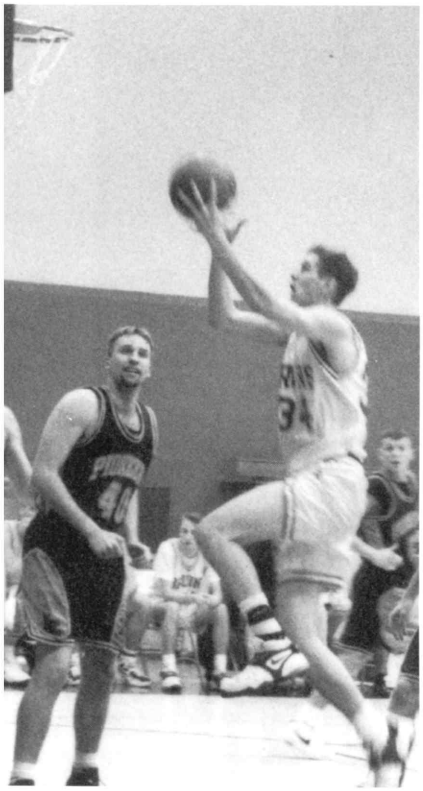
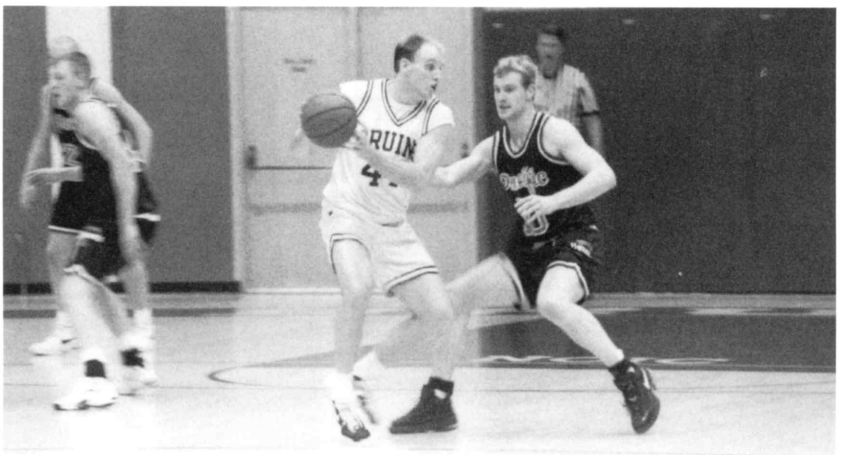
PLAY MAKER

Point Guard Kyle Vanlentine dribbles down the court to set up for the next play. Valentine was given the team's Most Valuable Player award by a vote of his teammates.







IT'S A BIRD... IT'S A PLANE...

Wing Ben Kroon leaps from the free throw line to put the ball into the basket. Kroon impressed observers with his quick leaping and inside scoring abilities.

LUUUKE!!!

Post Luke Ankeny shields the ball from his opponent as he looks to give a pass. Ankeny's consistent hustling style made him a fan favorite.

READY AND SET

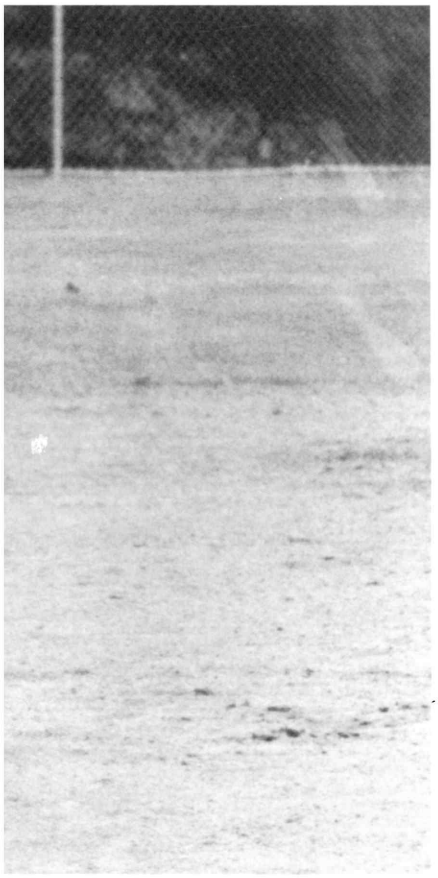
With heavy anticipation and a determined eye, infielder Angela Pascua crouches in a ready position, anxiously waiting for the ball to come her way. Pascua spent the season rotating between the shortstop and third base position.

IF LOOKS COULD KILL

Intimidation and strength dominate the face of pitcher Beth Davis as she hurls the softball at home plate. With numerous pitchers on the team, the Lady Bruins utilized each pitcher's strengths, whether it was the curve, slider, or fast ball.

AS A TEAM

As sisters with a mission, the Lady Bruins get together to discuss strategy, give constructive criticism and pump each other up before returning to battle it out on the field once again.



Battle with Intensity

SOFTBALL TEAM DISPLAYS DETERMINATION

Struggle but determination dominated the women's softball team as they battled competitive teams in the Northwest Conference. The team finished the grueling season 13-11 in the conference and 18-17 overall.

The women's team was constructed using only the players with the best attitudes and love for the game. The team was comprised of 11 returning players and seven all-state honors winners. With a team this full of individuals with such strong talent it would seem that competition and pride would interfere with the team's ability to work together.

> "Our team is like a family. We want people to get along on the field as well as off the field."
> -- Head Coach Chris Gross

"We have depth in all the positions. That creates a sense of competition within the team and helps to keep people focused," commented Head Coach Chris Gross.

Two of the team's members earned honorable mention from the Northwest Conference. Outfielder Sharka Vokel proved herself to be a leader, hitting a team high .370, three triples, and one home run. Coby Van der Meer, a first baseman for the team, led the Lady Bruins with 21 RBI, 10 doubles and one home run.

WAITING ON THE MOUND

BASEBALL TEAM PLAYS ABOVE EXPECTATIONS

Unbelievable talent and amazing play rocketed the men's baseball team to champion status in the Northwest. The men played remarkable baseball finishing the season with a 29-14 record and a 14 game win streak. Head Coach Pat Bailey, who in only his second year as coach received the Coach of the Year award, commented, "Winning 14 consecutive games in college baseball is really hard. To finish 18-5 in the league is a real compliment to our players."

The team was well rounded with an impressive pitching rotation and great versatility.

"We won't have as much team speed as last year but we have more overall power," stated Head Coach Pat Bailey.

> "The season's been amazing with the number of records we broke, individually and as a team."
> -- Pat Bailey

The team's sensational ability also received conference recognition. First baseman and pitcher, Nate Barnett was named Player of the Year. Barnett broke the George Fox record of 51 RBI with 69, and holds the team high batting average of .470. Barnett also tied three national records.

Troy Schrenk, Ryan Munoz and Lance Gilmore were also named to the first team and honorable mention awards were bestowed on Mark Tyler, Buster Ford, Chad Hollabaugh, and Jason Seibel.

Return of Excellence

WOMEN'S TRACK TEAM SENDS TEN TO NATIONALS

The return of exceptional athletes to the women's track team proved to be a benefit to both the team as well as the individual team members.

The Lady Bruins, comprised of All-Americans from last year, took that momentum and used it to catapult them once again to a competitive plain.

Nancy Rissmiller and Becci Harper both continued to be competitive forces in their individual events. They along with Jennifer Christiansen, Heidi Haley, Kristin Oelrich, and Amy Redenius qualified for the NAIA national meet.

Each athletes talent and drive pushed others to strive for the same. During the Adidas Oregon Classic, Sharla Rhoades set a school record in the triple jump with a distance of 36-1.5. Minutes later teammate Jocelyn Kennedy surpassed that record with a jump of 36-5.75. During the same meet Sharon Barnett set a freshman record in the 100-meter hurdles with a time of 15 seconds and Karen Baltz ran a lifetime best.

> "I didn't think the women could score as highly again at the Nationals. Everyone did about what they were capable of."
> --Coach Wes Cook

At the NAIA national meet the Lady Bruins placed a highest ever seventh place overall. Rissmiller and Harper both won their events. Sharon Barnett suprised coaches with her record 14.68 seconds culminated time in the 100-meter hurdles. Pole vaulter Jennifer Christiansen and the relay team also scored for the team.

FLOAT LIKE A BUTTERFLY...

Heptathlete Karrie Kiester takes a flying leap in the long jump. Kiester earned a trip to NAIA Nationals in the 100m meters, the competition in which teammate Sharon Barnett captured second place.

MEN'S TRACK TEAM GOES FULL SPEED AHEAD

Led by the National Championship performance of senior Ryan Chaney, the 1997 men's track and field team raced to a twenty-second place finish at the NAIA National Championships in Marietta, Georgia.

Chaney claimed his prize in the 400 meters with a GFU record and one-second personal best 45.98 seconds, qualifying him for the USA Track and Field Championships against opponents from NCAA Division I schools. Chaney beat the 400 meter field by .98 seconds.

The 4x400-meter relay team also earned points at the national meet, placing fifth in a school record time of 3:11.10. Bruins Peter Carmack, Chaney, Jim Haley and David Parker earned All-America honors for their 4x400 performance.

> "I was really pleased... there were a lot of really good efforts. That's what we focused on and that's what happened."
> --Coach Wes Cook

Bruin men Scott Edinger, Curt Rosen, Andrew Stave and Brandon Workman also qualified for and competed at the National meetas part of the 20-member GFU delegation, the largest in school history.

At the district meet in Tacoma, David Parker finished second in the 400 meter intermediate hurdles and Andrew Stave placed second in the triple jump.

WOMEN'S TENNIS TEAM LEARNS, IMPROVES

Improving one position from last year's finish, the women's tennis team captured eighth place at the NCIC Conference tournament. The second year program won four first round singles matches and placed their number one doubles team in the consolation finals.

The number one doubles team, senior Kailea Curtis and sophomore Shawna Hughes, won three straight matches in the consolation bracket before falling in a wild, 3-hour 45-minute final. Hughes, Kim Johnson, Sarah Johnson and Amy Gault all won their first round singles matches.

"Bonnie (Elliott, first year coach) really brought us the experience and instruction we needed. It was a lot of fun learning and improving everyday with this team, holding each other accountable as friends and as teammates," said Kailea Curtis. The highpoint of the season for Curtis was the team's first conference win, a 4-3 victory over Lewis & Clark.

MEN'S TENNIS TEAM SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

Improving from their 1996 finish, the men's tennis team captured seventh place at the NCIC Conference Championships in just their second year of competition, up two places from their first year.

The strongest showings came in the doubles competition, where all three teams won at least one match. The team of junior Luke Lesh and freshman Justin Ubel advanced the farthest, winning their first two matches before falling to the eventual tournament champions.

Rick Cruz and Todd Hammans won their first round match, while Rob Cruz and Andy Lindstrom advanced to the consolation quaterfinals.

In the singles competition, Rick Cruz was the lone Bruin to win in the championship bracket, falling to the eventual singles champion. Top freshman recruit Todd Hammans and Justin Ubel advanced to the consolation quarterfinals.

"I'm really pleased, a lot of people would never have expected us to be there. I think the program is going to keep moving in the right direction," said Head Coach Mark Sendelback.

GROUPS SET THE STAGE FOR FUN AND EXCITEMENT

Despite the fact that basketball games at George Fox were usually well attended, three groups of students volunteered their time to make those who came enjoy their experience even more. The Cheerleaders, Bruin Hosts and Hostesses, and Pep Band gave many hours to supporting the school.

The 1996-1997 Cheerleading squad began practicing together very early in the year. The cheerleaders helped keep the home crowd excited and the school spirit high by getting everyone involved.

"I really like the way the cheerleaders let people in the crowd lead cheers for them," said junior David Wood. "And it was cool for them to pass out signs for us to use."

> "I really like the way the cheerleaders let people in the crowd lead cheers for them."
> -- David Wood

The squad also provided support for the Men's and Women's basketball teams by making the locker signs and traveling to some of the away games.

The Bruin Hosts and Hostesses also helped the school portray a positive image to those visiting the school during basketball season. Their job included passing out programs, helping with seating, and maintaining crowd control, as well as providing refreshments for those at the press tables. It was the role of the Hosts and Hostesses to make the whole experience of attending a GFU home game confortable and relaxing.

INTRAMURALS BALANCES FUN, COMPETITION

Athletics at GFU are certainly not restricted to a small minority of the population. Through ASC, the Intramural staff prepares sports competitions throughout the school year that are open to everyone. Seaons are scheduled, playoffs conducted, and championships awarded in a wide variety of sports and activities.

In the fall, football dominates Saturday's on the track field. Interest in football spread enough that a women's league, complete with a championship, was created. There is also 6-on-6 coed volleyball, a tennis tournament, and a winner-take-all round of golf.

Competition really heats up in winter when 3-on-3, and later 5-on-5, basketball begins. Over thirty teams competed in the 5-on-5 basketball league this past year, in two divisions.

Spring evenings are the busiest, as indoor soccer and floor hockey leagues fill the available gym hours. The spring also saw Saturday tournaments for 3-on-3 volleyball and badminton.

The IM staff: Becci Harper, Michelle Harper, Steve Strauss, Andy Arthur and advisor Manfred Tschan, were responsible for determining interest, establishing rules and guidelines, scheduling the leagues, gym time, and awarding the championships. Their hard work made possible the hours of fun, competition and time to unwind enjoyed by the entire student body.

Setting up in the half court, Bob Page checks out the defense of Kenny Gillett in a 3-on-3 league game. Both basketball leagues were well attended by players and spectators.

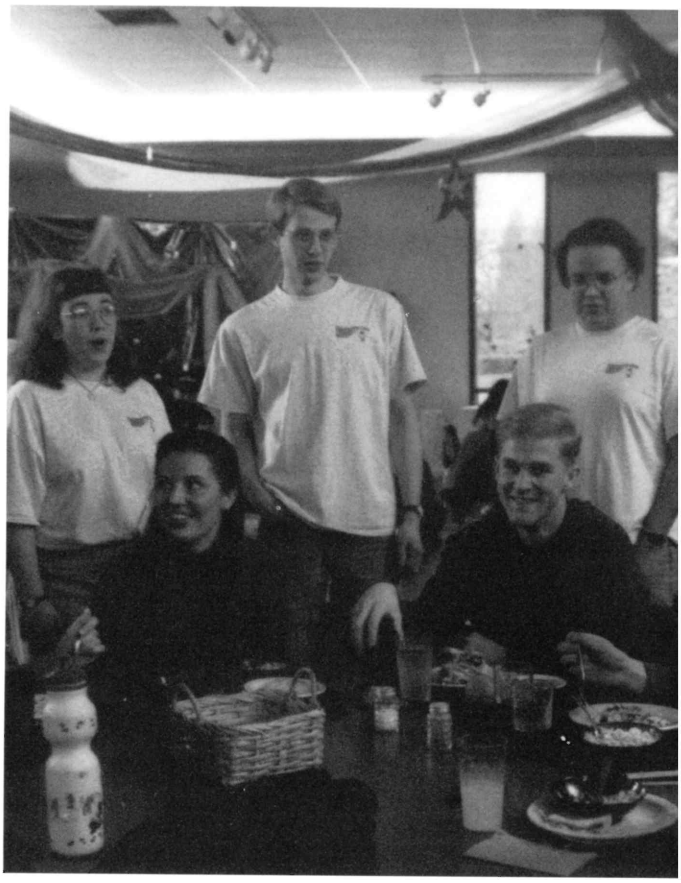
CONCENTRATION

Focusing on the task at hand, Kyle Chowning and Cami Hurt prepare for the imminent arrival of the volleyball during a 3-on-3 match.

Members of the Crosslight Chapel Chc get their point across during a chapel ne the end of the year. Several chape throughout the year began with up-temp worship led by Crosslight.

Serenading a surprised Mrs. Shaun McNay, concert choir members sing at the request of her husband. The concert choir earned money by selling themselves out as singing telegrams on Valentine's Day.

With timid smiles and flushed cheeks, Stacy Wade and Steve Schmidt sit embarrassed as members of the concert choir sing to them in Marriott on Valentine's Day.



Jared Hinkle and his kazzoo lead the Concert Choir into Bauman during the Spring concert. Under the direction of Derric Johnson, the Choir tried out innovative new ways to make concerts more light and fun, including throwing objects out into the audience.

Sing to the Lord

University Choirs

Singing the joys of Christmas, Crosslight members display their talent and enthusiasm for music during the Christmas Celebration in Wheeler Gymnasium.

The concert choir performs at the Spring concert, accompanied by classical guitarist Senior Jon Rubesh. The concert choir performed at several University functions throughout the year, including chapel and a Christmas dramatic production.

Smooth Sounds

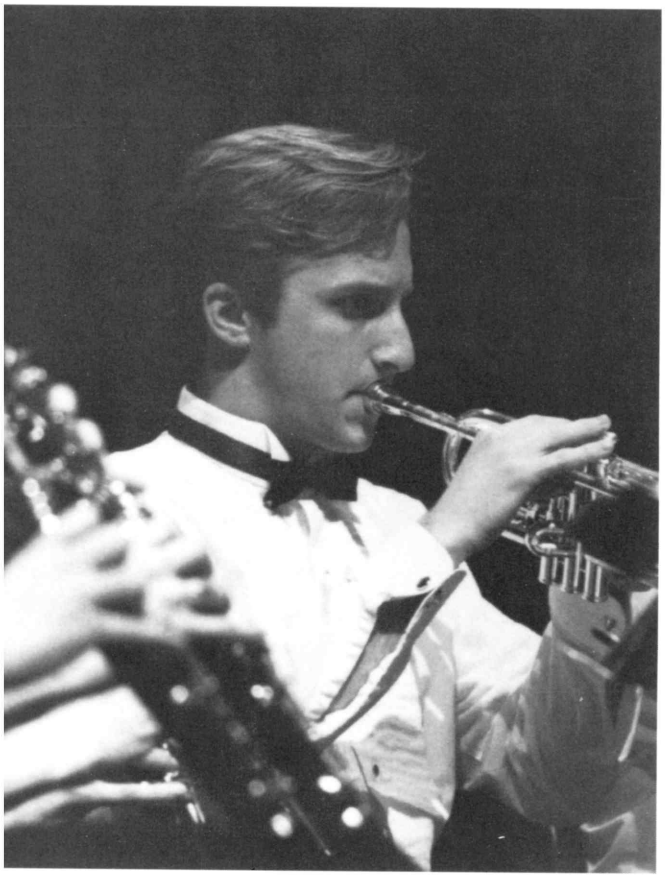
University Bands

Chris Larsen lets loose on a solo during a jazz band performance. Larsen was featured often with trombone solos.

Dave Reid and Lisa Voogd lead the saxophone section during a Concert Band performance. The band continued their tradition of touring during Spring Break, this year to several locations around the Northwest.

Brian Stuck and Julie Cruce anchor the woodwind section during the Spring Concert in Bauman. Cruce and Stuck, both seniors, were also section leaders for their respective instruments.

Senior Shawn Klinkner leads a featured trombone trio, with Professor Mauri Macy, during the Spring Concert. This year was the final one for many valuable leaders of the Concert Band, graduating seniors of which Klinkner was one.



Junior Jacob Harris leads the trumpet section of the Concert Band. Harris, a three-year member of the Concert Band, was featured on several trumpet solos.

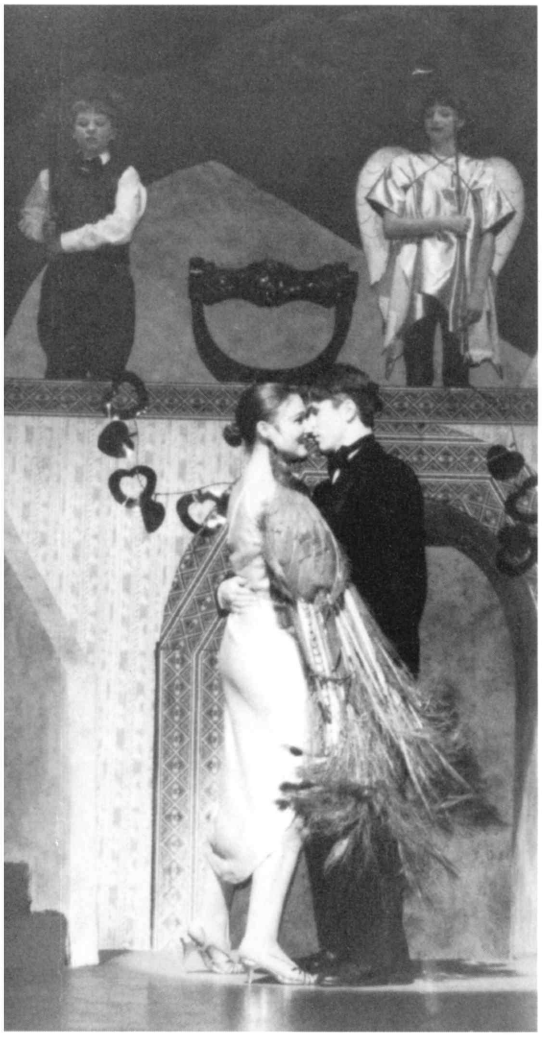
The GFU jazz band hits full volume near the end of the Spring Concert. Under the direction of Dr. Bob Lauinger, the jazz band sponsored several relaxed jazz deserts, giving the community an opportunity to hear a wide variety of jazz music.

Mother, Tonia Werner, informs her maid Hannah, Rachel Duncan and her daughters, Meg, Rachel Dressler, Jo, Katie Putignano, Beth, Elissa Sartwell, and Amy, Shannon Killeen that their father is severely ill.

The youngest daughter, Amy played by Shannon Killeen pouts because she is not allowed to go to the movie with the others. "Little Women" provided a realistic portrayal of family quarrels, concerns, and experiences that come upon a young person's life.

Personal assistants to Proteus and Valentine, the two gentlemen of Verona, Speed, Amy Dent, and her dog Crab, along with Launce, Elissa Sartwell, read over interesting news. Speed and Launce proved to be strong comedic characters that kept the crowd entertained with their clownish antics.

'alentine, Jacob Smith romances Silvia, aughter of the Emperor, Rachel Dressler t a royal ball in "Two Gentleman of 'erona." Four graduating seniors, Smith, esse Cadd, Berkeley Shorthill, and randon Thornburg used the play as their nal production at George Fox.



Great Plays

Dramas

Jo played by Katie Putignano comforts her younger sister, Amy played by Shannon Killeen after she fell through the ice. Because of the emotional content of the play, the cast in "Little Women" worked hard at displaying real feelings familiar to family problems.

After being banished from Milan, Valentine, Jacob Smith and his servent, Speed, Amy Dent, are held at gunpoint by robbers Shane Pilo, Brian Herling, and Marshall Pickens and try desperately to get out of the situation during the Spring production of "Two Gentlemen of Verona."

Once Upon A Mattress

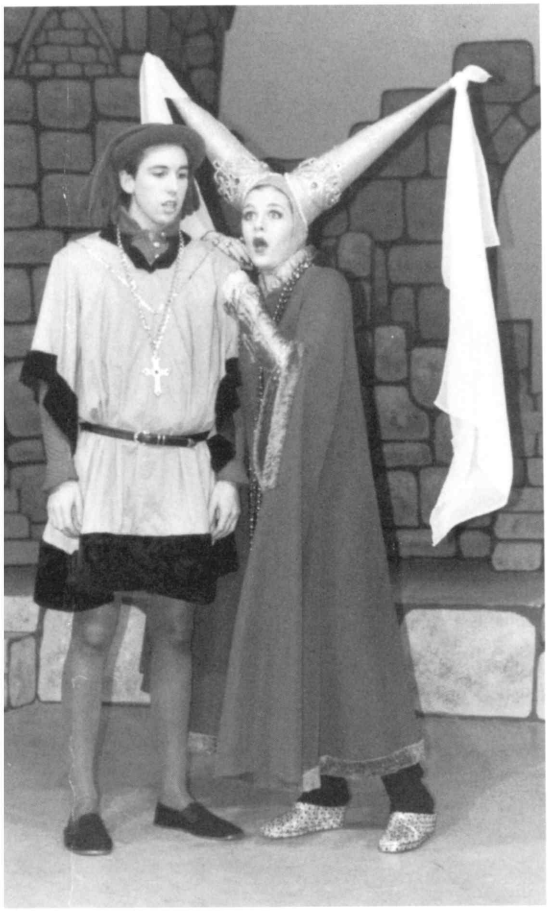
Spring Musical

Sir Harry, Michael Hampton, sings a promise to find the Prince a princess for th Prince, so he can marry Lady Larken, Rebekah Crover, In a Little While. "As a actor, I would say I was nervous about playing in this role. But working with suc a professional actress made me comfortable," said Hampton.

Princess Winnifred, Heather Dunkin, franticly studies History so she can pass the Queen's test in the morning. "I was surprised to get this role," said Dunkin. "It wasn't what I'm usually type casted for; it was fun to let loose."

Josh Smith, Faith Garner, Jeff Atkisson and Angela Ward, Knights and Ladies-in-Waiting announce in Opening For a Princess to marry the Prince, so they too can be married. "We had a lot of freedom to do random things in the background that wasn't scripted," said Garner.

A conspiring trio: Minstrel, Jeremy Kramer, King Sextimus the Silent, Marshall Pickens and Jester, Brandon Thornburg, divulge their awareness of every event in the castle. King Sextimus the Silent could only communicate through sound language. "I think not saying anything was more difficult than having as many lines as Bethany," said Marshall.



The eccentric, overprotective Queen, Bethany Sonerholm warns her son-Prince Dauntless, Joe Thouvenel, about the institution of marriage. "I enjoyed using nonverbal communication, like twiddling my fingers," said Sonerholmd. The Queen could be the queen without her hat, which caused Sonerholm to "walk sideways everywhere backstage!"

As the court looks on with anticipation, the Wizard, Wade Neiwart, gives Princess #12, Rebecca Bailey, the Queen's detailed History question. "I got to use my Chemistry major skills playing with the dry ice," said Neiwart.

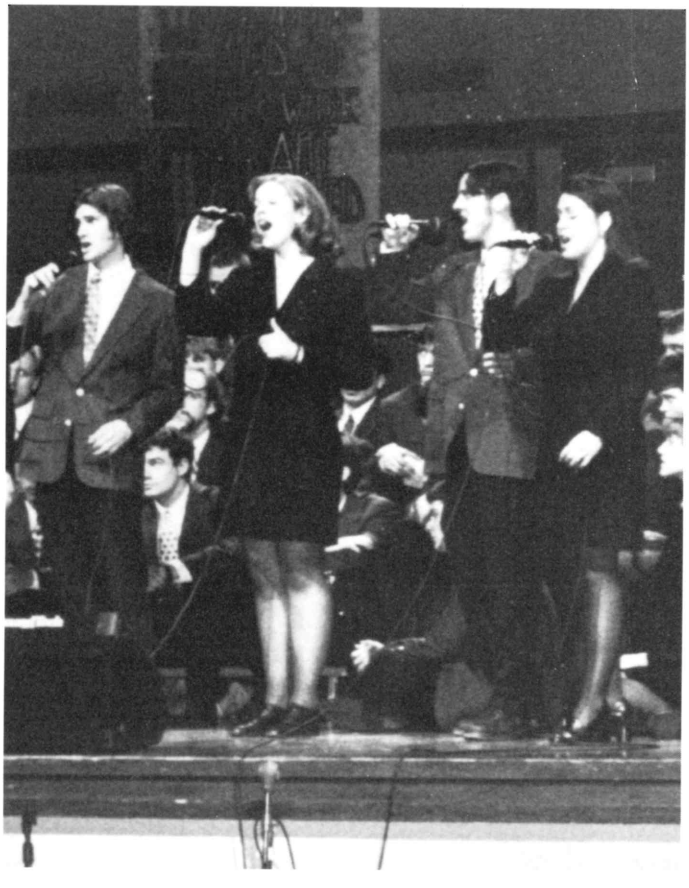
The ladies of Dayspring step to the front of the stage during their performance at the Christmas Celebration. Dayspring not only entertained GF students but also toured the entire west coast visiting such places as Seattle, Sacramento, San Francisco, Fresno, and Los Angeles.



Dayspring members enjoy entertaining the George Fox community during the Spring Concert. In May, the group was featured at Music Northwest, a convergence of 450 ministers of music in Bellevue, Washington. This was the first year that Dayspring attended the event.

aritone Matthew Magee shows real motion while he sings a carol during the Christmas Celebration. Along with carols, Dayspring's repertoire included sacred music, spirituals, and contemporary elections.

Center Stage

Dayspring

Members of Dayspring enjoy the pleasures of entertaining people through music. Dayspring was led by director, Derric Johnson, a visiting professor of music and director of music ministries. Johnson has published more than 2000 musical arrangements.

Thomas Payne, the group's tenor, takes time for a solo. A new comer to the George Fox campus, Payne was one of two freshman who auditioned and was selected to sing in Dayspring.

Prayer is an important part of University Players both on and off the stage. In this sketch Rachel, Rebekah, and Heidi are asking God for a doll (and thanking Him for such a cool group of Players).

The University Players perform at the President's Christmas celebration as wind-up toys. Miller Gymnasium was brought to life during their performance.

disguise, the Players try to sneak off stage at the end of a formance. The Players occasionally use props to reemphasize ir message.

Acting Truth

University Players

(Above) The Players gasp with amazement at a off-stage announcement. The Players performed a limited number of times on campus.

(Middle Left) Wade Neiwert and Berkeley Shorthill rev their engines and get ready to ride in this classic Players sketch. Many of the sketches are originals by current and previous Players.

(Left) It seems like its all fun and games for Rebecca Crover and the Players, but they actually spend a significant time practicing and preparing for their exciting ministry opportunities.

THE NEWS...

Months after TWA Flight 800 exploded in mid-air in the summer of 1996, investigators were still searching for a cause. The Boeing 747 jumbo jet plunged in the Atlantic Ocean off the coast of Long Island, New York, just minutes after taking off from Kennedy Airport for Paris. All 230 people on board were killed. The theories ranged from a mechanical failure to a bomb; from a exploded fuel tank to a missile.

In the News...

Peace in the Middle East remained unstable as the school year began. A crisis erupted after Israel opened a new exit in a tunnel alongside a plateau, raising suspicions among Muslims that the Israeli were seeking to change the delicate religious balance in Jerusalem's Old City. The incident proved to be the breaking point in mounting Palestinian frustrations with the lack of movement in carrying out the peace accords. Demonstrations followed where nearly 100 people were killed. Then emergency meetings were arranged by President Clinton in Washington between Benjamin Netanyahu and Yasir Arafat

The Stock Market surged to record highs as the school year began. It was a continuation of one of the greatest bull markets in history. The Dow Jones industrial average hit record highs in late September and closed over 6,000 in October. The spark that kept the markets moving upward was news that suggested that the economy was slowing down, thus keeping interest rates low.

Olympic gold medal winner Michael Johnson has what track coaches call speed endurance, the ability to carry top speed. He proved he had endurance-plus. Johnson won an unprecedented double win in the Summer Olympics in Atlanta. He won the 200 and 400-meter races. He was also the overwhelming favorite in the relay, but a case of food poisoning weakened him and he failed to qualify for the final team.

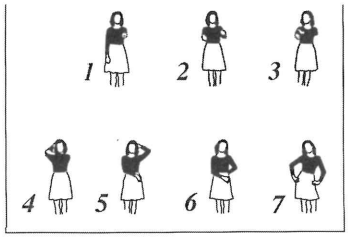
The Macarena hit all the charts - from Latin to Pop - and enlivened dance floors all over the world. The song was first released three years ago and it became a big hit in Spain. Then someone had the bright idea to market the song internationally. Numerous Macarena versions have added variations to the basic moves of the dance, which requires a 360-degree turn to be completed in four jumps to the right.



Boris Yeltsin was re-elected President of Russia and pledged to continue the reforms he began five years ago. However, the 65-year old president began immediately to show the signs of severe heart problems. It was announced that he had at least two heart attacks in the past two years and open-heart surgery was considered the only solution to his life threatening disease.

Alanis Morissette has talent that seems to know no limit. Her debut album, "Jagged Little Pill," attracted considerable attention thanks to the hit single "You Oughta Know," a fiery, graphic rant at a former boyfriend. Morissette delivers the deeply personal lyrics with a dramatic voice and a dynamic rhythm. As one critic put it: "She lashes out at her targets with a fury that makes her music both invigorating and frightening."

Hong Kong was a British colony on the brink of great change in 1997. Great Britain's lease on Hong Kong was set to expire on July 1, 1997 and the Chinese were poised to reclaim the island. After 100 years of British rule, British administration and jurisdiction over Hong Kong ended and became a Special Administrative Region of the People's Republic of China

A deadly explosion disrupted the Olympic Games. Just as the Games were turning Atlanta into a giddy metropolis overflowing with tourists, a black-powdered pipe bomb packed with nails exploded in the crowded Centennial Olympic Park. One person died instantly and another died of a heart attack. More than 100 people were injured and, as the school year opened, nobody was charged with the crime,

Bob Dole retired after 35 years in Congress to devote himself full time to running for President. At the age of 73, the former senator from Kansas would be the oldest person elected to a first term as president. As his running mate he chose Jack Kemp, an active Republican and former capinet member. Dole and Kemp promised to give President Clinton a "run for his money." They attacked the president's character and ethics while promoting the Republican 15 percent tax cut.

IN THE NEWS..

Three years ago Jewel was a fledgling singer-songwriter living on carrots and peanut butter sandwiches. Now, the 22-year old performer from Alaska is a smashing success. Her debut album of bittersweet folk songs, "Pieces of You," went platinum. Jewel sings many of the songs on the album in a crystalline voice while playing her acoustic guitar.

Benjamin Netanyahu, the 47-year old leader of the Likud political party, was elected Prime Minister of Israel. He declared that his government would honor the existing agreements on peace and security issues and would continue to negotiate toward a final peace agreement in the Middle East

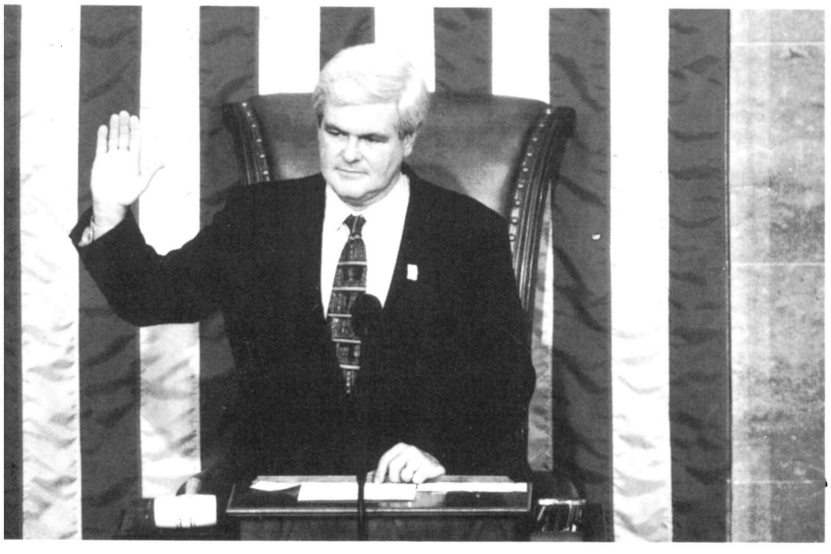
IN THE NEWS...

The seven members of the United States women's gymnastic team won the unlikeliest of gold medals in the unlikeliest of fashions. Team member Kerri Strug made the clinching vault on a bad ankle and became an Olympic heroine the instant she landed. Her coach, Bela Karolyi, carried her to the stand to be awarded the medal



For the first time in its history, the House of Representatives voted to reprimand and fine its speaker for bringing discredit on the House. The House Ethics Committee ruled that House Speaker Newt Gingrich was involved in using tax-exempt foundation money for his political ends.

George Fox University

ur record is complete. Our year has been given its permaner place in history through pictures and written accounts.

It was different than those years previous, and unique fror those years yet to come.

It is a basis for future decisions, for future developments. Lessons can b learned from it, and adaptations made.

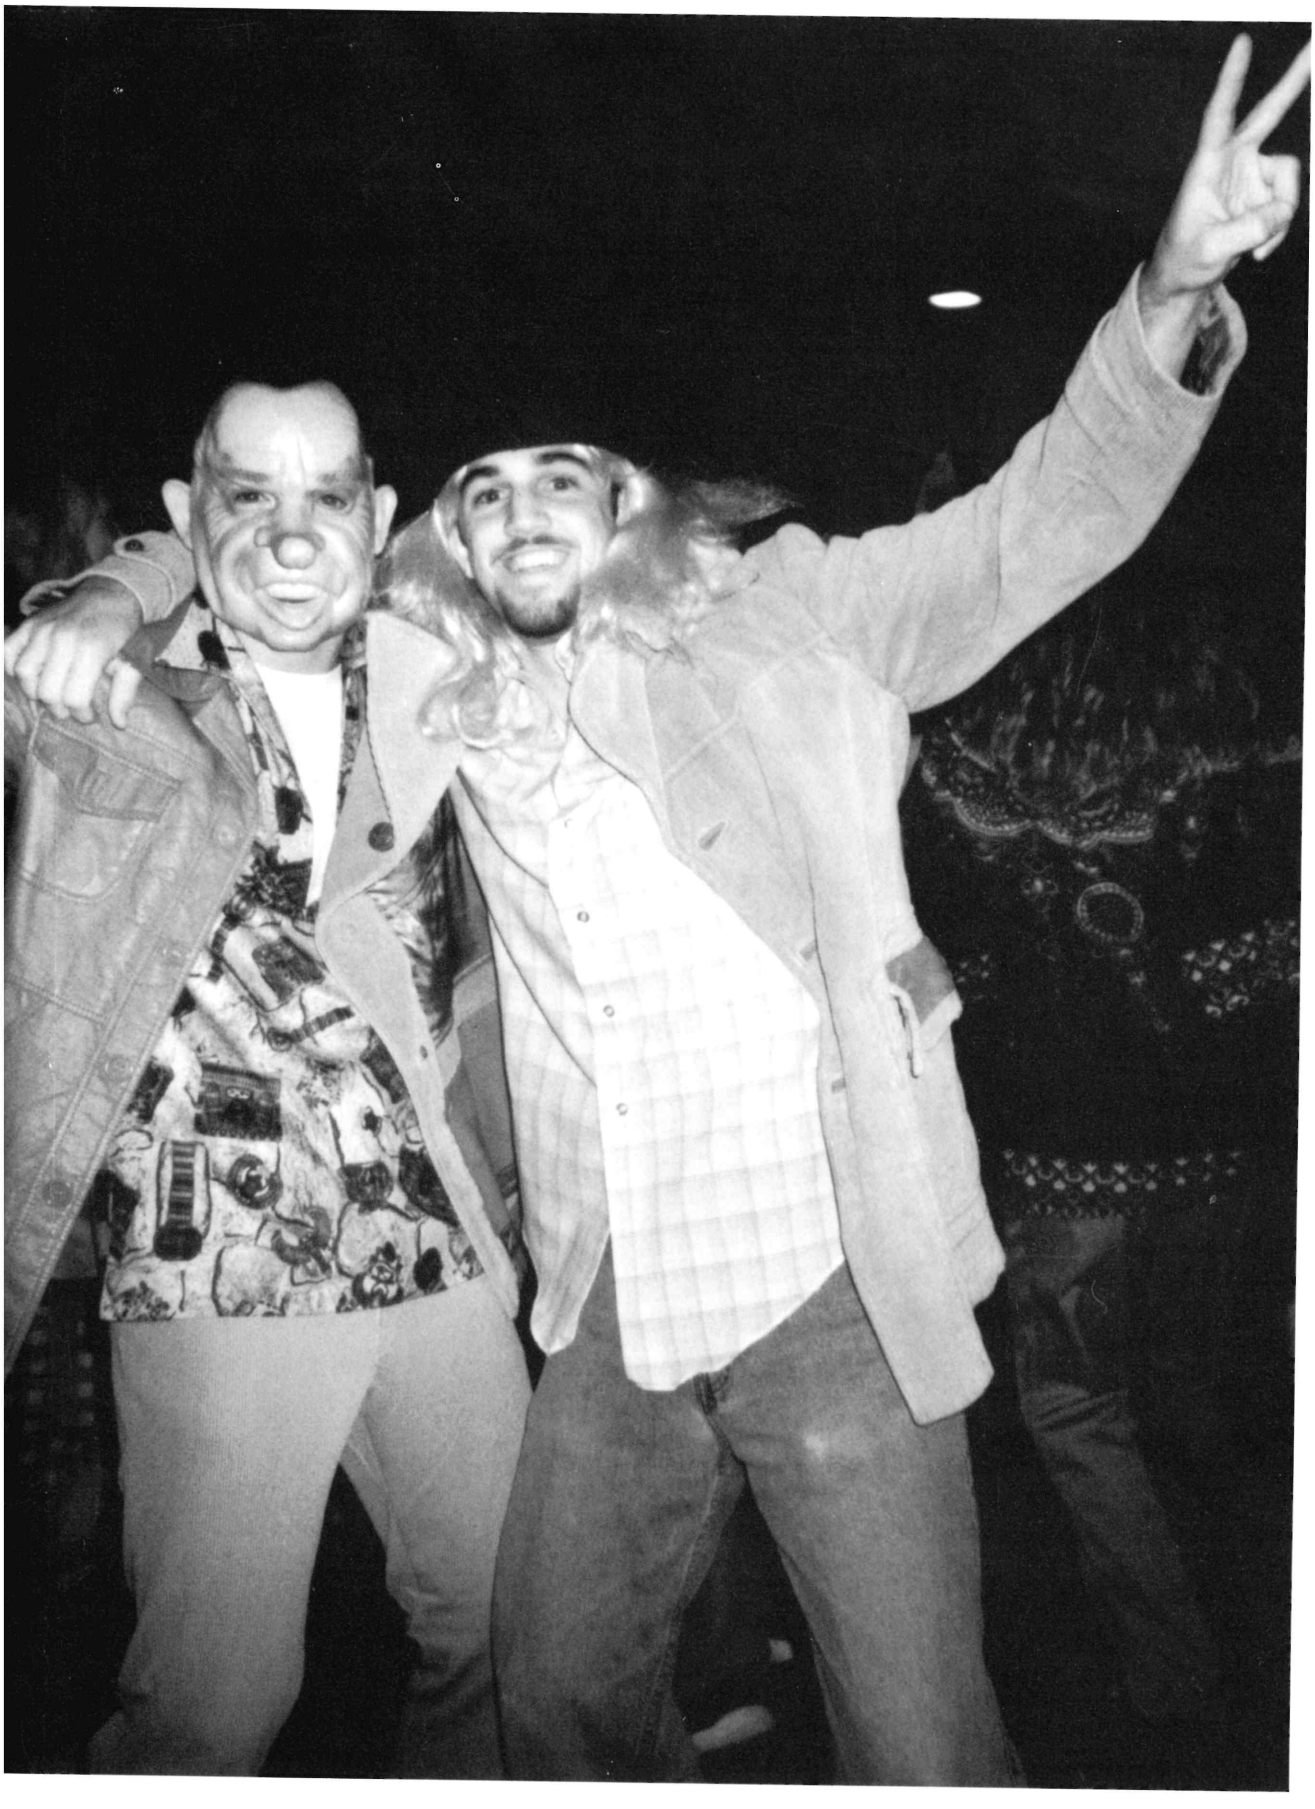
It is the hope of the yearbook staff that our efforts at capturing the spirit c this campus and the story of this year are helpful to you. Maybe not toda but certainly at that time in the future when fashions have passed you by, you bedtime has become earlier, and memories once pushed into the corners c your mind can be renewed, and your spirit refreshed. At that time, we hop you have remained in fellowship with the Lord and that your experience George Fox was constructive in maintaining that commitment.

Only two pieces of advice:

1.) Yearbooks are made to collect dust: keep this record at hand for whe you need the refreshment of younger days.

2.) "Commit to the Lord whatever you do, and your plans will succeed. his heart a man plans his course, but the Lord determines his steps."

- Proverbs 16: 3, 9



EDITOR'S NOTE:

Well, we're done.

Another year with just another yearbook to throw on the pile, right? No, not for me. This book, while neither flashy nor perfect, is a sincere effort to capture the essence of this campus and the driving force behind the name George Fox University: THE PEOPLE. Specifically the students, many of whom I consider friends. Had I gone to a school with a better academic reputation or a bigger name, I could not have met and cultivated relationships with better people than I have here. For that I thank this community

Yearbook to me is a one-of-a-kind combination of history, journalism, and personal service. For the opportunity to serve you, record your lives, and gain experience in two personally fascinating fields, I thank you.

There are plenty of specific people to thank:

To my Assistant Editor Corrie Chasteen, your dedication to this project is unmatched. Thanks for shouldering the load during May and June and for keeping me focused during the rest of the year. Thanks for being willing to work around my schedule, for as long as was necessary to get the job done. Good luck next year.

To the rest of the yearbook staff, thanks for your efforts, especially collecting the info and pictures, not really the glory part of journalism. Joe Thouvenel, Amber Nice, Michelle Migneault, Amber Lindsey and Kim Johnson.

To our Herff Jones representative, Annette Johnson, thanks for answering our questions, giving exactly the right advice, and being willing to help with anything, especially mugs pages!

To my immediate supervisor and friend, Michael Slivkoff, thanks for giving me free reign in my department, for listening to my complaints and for getting us new technology. You're the bomb.

To Andrea Adamson and her Darkroom staff, thanks for doing the dirty work and keeping us supplied with pictures, even once school was out for the summer.

To those ASC people who always griped at me for "slacking off" (you know who you are Kelly, Scot and Cary), this is the finished product I promised. And I didn't even have to stay up all night. :-) Enjoy

To everyone who sat down for "Dave will pick your brain" sessions about your activities, thank you

To Shaun McNay, thanks for listening and understanding my decisions and reasons.

To those people who taught me what I know about yearbook, thank you, your efforts came in really handy once I was one-on-one with a layout sheet and a deadline.

OK, that's enough writing, the academy would have cued the orchestra long before now. To anyone I missed, know that you are appreciated!

We are what we continually do. Excellence, then, is not an accident, but a habit.

God bless - Dave
